

SOCIETA' CAPITANI E MACCHINISTI NAVALI

CAMOGLI

www.scmncamogli.org

www.scmncamogli.org

KNOWING MARITIME ENGLISH

A NON-PROFIT MAKING PROJECT

- Società Capitani e Macchinisti Navali di Camogli are very pleased to release this newly designed multi-media platform of especially devised material called 'Knowing Maritime English'. 'Knowing ME' is specifically meant to help young officers starting out in the Merchant Navy, as well as anyone with an interest in the field, approach the world of communications at sea. This set of materials is drawn from select parts of the International Maritime Organizations' (IMO) handbook of Standard Maritime Communication Phrases, commonly known as the IMO-SMCP.
- All the situations presented in this project allow for a practical and hands-on approach to basic maritime communications. In particular, we would like to present our users with a set of mostly multiple-choice answer exercises involving specimens of realistic audio or written discourse relating to on-board operations.
- This web-based learning area was designed by C.L.C. Sea Captain Bruno Malatesta, Vice President of Società Capitani e Macchinisti Navali di Camogli and Teacher of Technical English for Maritime Purposes (EMP) and Society member Alexia Piaggio, teacher and materials' writer of EMP, whose materials were shortlisted for IHS Safety at Sea Awards in 2013.

The collage displays several interactive learning modules:

- COORDINATES, BEARINGS AND COURSES: A module with a map and multiple-choice questions.
- VTS - TRAFFIC INFORMATION (1): A module featuring a radar display with ship icons and associated data (e.g., CHARLIE, ALFA, BRUNO).
- SOCIETA' CAPITANI E MACCHINISTI NAVALI OF SHIPMASTERS AND MARINE ENGINEERS CAMOGLI - 1904: The organization's header and navigation links.
- KNOWING MARITIME ENGLISH: The main title of the learning platform.
- INTERNATIONAL CODE OF SIGNALS - 2: A module showing various signal flags and their corresponding meanings.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO KNOW MORE? CONTACT US AT sede@scmncamogli.org