

IATEFL LASiG Post-Conference Event, September 11, 2021

10:00-16:30	Contextualizing language learner autonomy: From theory to practice
10:00 30 min	Welcome and opening of the day Meeting the delegates
10:30 45 min	Plenary – David Little Language learner autonomy for the 21st century: definition, theoretical justification, practical implications
11:15	Coffee Break: 11:15-11:30
11:30 30 min	Follow-up on the plenary Small-group discussions about talking points set by David Asking questions of David, addressing open issues discussed after the plenary
12:00 Practical session 60 min	Workshop Just connect them! Creating new landscapes for ALL Annika Albrecht and Carmen Becker An interactive, hands-on session which will investigate learning landscapes and how these support and encourage learner autonomy.
13:00	Lunch Break: 13:00-14:00
14:00 Practical session 60 min	Workshop Student logbooks: A new paradigm for language teaching Frank Lacey At this workshop you will be actively involved, just like students in an autonomous class. We'll start with an introduction explaining how important student logbooks are to language learning and not just autonomy. After that you will work in small groups with authentic student logbooks and you will be encouraged to ask all the questions you may have about autonomy in real life, in a real classroom, with real learners.
15:00	Coffee Break: 15:00-15:15
15:15 45 min	Mini presentations View presentations and interact with presenters and other participants.
16:00 30 min	Rounding off and discussion with delegates Wrapping up the day and final thoughts

Thank you to our sponsors:

AtlasEnglish ClarityEnglish