IATEFL Research SIG seeks two (2) newsletter co-editors to join the editorial team on the production of the SIG's annual newsletter ELT Research.

The newsletter co-editor works with the rest of the editorial team to review, edit, proofread and typeset articles. The role also involves considering and encouraging potential authors to contribute, as well as suggesting innovative paths for the publication to pursue. The role may involve administrative work, such as correspondence on behalf of the editorial team.

An ideal candidate for the position will possess the following:
- familiarity with the current content and structure of ELT Research
- solid writing experience
- well-developed reviewing, editing and typesetting skills
- strong interpersonal skills
- ability to work to deadlines