

57th IATEFL Conference and Exhibition Terms and Conditions

These are the terms that govern attendance at, and/or participation in, the 57th IATEFL International Conference, Exhibition and Pre-Conference Events (PCEs). By booking for the conference the registered participant is agreeing to these terms, which form a legal contract between IATEFL and the registered participant under United Kingdom law. If you are booking on behalf of another delegate, it is your responsibility to ensure that the person attending is aware of, understands and accepts these terms.

1. The IATEFL Conference

- a. Payment of the conference and/or PCE fees entitles you to admittance to the sessions on the days and times you have booked and paid for. All other costs associated with your attendance (including, but not limited to, any travel and accommodation expenses) shall be borne solely by you; IATEFL is not liable for such costs.
- b. Entrance to the exhibition area is free of charge.
- c. IATEFL reserves the right to alter any or all aspects of the conference (including, but not limited to, the conference name, content, programme, presenters, venue, date and time) without liability to delegates for expenses that may have been incurred.
- d. IATEFL also reserves the right to move the event onto a virtual platform should it decide, or be advised, that running the event face-to-face is not possible, safe or practicable in its judgement. In such circumstances IATEFL will endeavour to notify all participants as quickly as possible to avoid participants incurring costs, such as for accommodation and travel, all of which IATEFL is not liable for. In the circumstance of you attending or presenting via a virtual platform,
 1. IATEFL is not liable for any technical problems you may have during the event.
 2. You will be provided with a recording of the event if one is made.
 3. Whilst every effort will be made to provide a stable and effective experience for virtual delegates, IATEFL cannot guarantee that technical issues will not arise during the event, but will endeavour to reduce these to a minimum and resolve any issues as they arise. IATEFL cannot be held liable for any delegate plans, commitments or activities which may be affected as a result of unintended technical difficulties during the event.
- e. Any opinion, idea or information given within an IATEFL event by a speaker or other participant should not be necessarily regarded as factual, and does not represent the views of IATEFL, its staff, volunteers or trustees.

In such circumstances this will be taken as a commitment to make payment for the booking, whether the participant is able to attend or not.
- d. A PCE booking may be changed for an alternative PCE, subject to availability and the administrative charges listed in section 5. Changes to your PCE attendance must be requested by 16:00 (UK time) on 8 April 2024. Changes can only be made to an event with the same booking cost as the one you originally registered to attend. For example, an in person PCE booking can move to another in person PCE, or an online PCE booking can move to an alternative online PCE.
